

Signing of an Agreement with Ca' Foscari University of Venice — the Only Comprehensive University in Venice, Renowned Worldwide for Its Top-Level Education and Research Excellence

On October 13, 2025, Shimonoseki City University signed an Inter-University Exchange Agreement and a Student Exchange Agreement with Department of Asian and North African Studies, Ca' Foscari University of Venice in Italy.

Founded in 1868, Ca' Foscari University is globally recognized for its excellence in language and cultural studies, and its Department of Asian and North African Studies is regarded as one of the world's top programs in its field.

Located in the heart of Venice, the university offers students a rare opportunity to study surrounded by the city's world-famous cultural, artistic, and historical heritage.

Through this agreement, the two universities will advance cooperation in student exchange, joint research, and intercultural education.

It was also agreed that students from Shimonoseki City University will be able to attend English-taught master's courses related to tourism, economics, business management, law, and languages at Ca' Foscari University.

This signing represents more than a formal agreement—it symbolizes the integration of the educational and cultural values shared by both universities.

By combining Ca' Foscari University's excellence in language education with Shimonoseki City University's community-based educational approach, the partnership is expected to further enhance students' global competitiveness.

